The conversation turned on answered prayer. For more than two hours we vied with one another in recounting personal incidents of God's wonderful work; and the inspiration of that evening still abides. A Christian minister once said to me: "Is it possible that the great God of the universe, the Maker and Ruler of mankind, could or would, as you would make out, take interest in such a trifle as the trimming of a hat?" The following incidents of answered prayer are by no means a complete record. How could they be, when no record of prayer has been kept all these fifty years? Had there been, I doubt not that volumes could have been written to the glory of God's grace and power in answering prayer. Each of these sketches on answered prayer contains one or more important principle that we need to recognize, relate to, and apply to our lives. These would aid in prayer group discussion, confession, and revival if studied prior to each meeting by each member. L. G. Parkhurst, Jr. I would continue to pray. By evening we got the books and furniture adjusted in the new offices, and I made up a good fire in the open fireplace, hoping to spend the evening alone. Just at dark, Squire Wright, seeing that everything was in order, said good-night and retired to his home. I had accompanied him to the door, and as I closed it and turned around, my heart seemed to melt within me. PS â€“ We need more stories of remarkable answers to prayer. If you have one from your own life, I'd love to hear it. For information about Shaw's book, Touching Incidents and Remarkable Answers to Prayer, click here.
