Chapter 22: The High Calling of Wife and Mother in Biblical Perspective Dorothy Patterson (Criswell College) 371 Chapter 23: Where’s Dad? The Council on Biblical Manhood and Womanhood has sponsored and endorsed this as its first book project, and we are grateful for the support of the Council in this work. (A list of Council members appears in Appendix 2.) From the biblical perspective marriage is designed to be the majestic cover of the book whose primary subject is Jesus Christ. The content of every book needs to command more attention than its covers, so from this perspective understanding God’s design for marriage is much more important than our personal vision of marriage. The purpose of this research is to present the significance and value of marriage as a community not just of husband and wife, but also of God who is the Founder of this community. Therefore, implies that marriage is not a unique and vital institution that is the founda...
